Adoption: Feeding more children at your table

From usccb.com

25 years ago I gave birth to a baby boy and … lovingly placed him into the waiting arms of his parents. …I pray that his life has been full of joy, laughter, and abundant love. My thoughts and prayers also turn to my beautiful family and friends that lifted me up. – Maya*

Maya discovered she was pregnant in her freshman year of college. When her son was born, she placed him with a very kind adoptive family. Now, years later, Maya emphasizes the importance of offering support to expectant mothers.

Let compassion guide your actions—always. Consider whether your words and actions consistently convey understanding, compassion, and empathy. Would a woman facing an unexpected pregnancy know she could turn to you?

Do not pit adoption against abortion. Focus on encouraging her that she can carry this baby to term.

Reassure her that she can "breathe."
In an unexpected pregnancy, decisions begin to accumulate quickly, which can be stressful and overwhelming. Reassure her that she doesn't need to resolve everything right away.

Love her for herself. Show your expectant friend you love her for her own sake, and affirm that she is not defined by her pregnancy.

Affirm that adoption is a loving choice. Let her know that placing a child for adoption is a loving and generous option that shows her long-term motherly care. In placing, she gives her child the gift of a family, and gives that family a child.

Help her see beyond her pregnancy. Help your pregnant friend set and work towards goals that extend beyond the nine months of her pregnancy.

At the same time, be careful not to trivialize the difficulties she may be facing.

Be present. Invite her to spend time with you, and don't be afraid to invite her to join group outings. If you are concerned for her comfort, don't cease inviting her; be honest about your concern, and ask her what she needs.

St. Joseph Adoption Novena

Copies of the full novena are available at back of church.

Invoking the intercession of St. Joseph, foster father of Jesus, we pray that the Lord will bless all who travel upon the path of adoption. And, recalling the mercy which God our Father has shown to us, we also ask that, through our words and actions, they may encounter the outstretched hands of his mercy. May all know the care of the Father, whose love for each person "gushes forth from the depths naturally, full of tenderness and compassion, indulgence and mercy" (Misericordiae vultus, 6).

Martyrs of St. George

(website: altonfranciscans.org)

A great love for the Incarnation of Jesus and His Passion burned deeply within the heart of St. Francis. Paired with his fiery desire for the Eucharist and the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass it is not hard to see how he began to set the 12th Century on it's head. Soon, many began to desire to follow in his way and the Franciscan family was born. It is within this Franciscan tradition that we live, supporting the Church and following the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

We live in God's family, revealed as a Trinity of love

By Dr. Scott Hahn

Readings:
Deuteronomy 4:32–34, 39–40
Psalm 33:4–6, 9, 18–20, 22
Romans 8:14–17
Matthew 28:16–20

Last Sunday, we celebrated the sending of the Spirit, which sealed God's new covenant and made a new creation.

In this new creation, we live in the family of God, who has revealed himself as a Trinity of love. We share in His divine nature through His Body and Blood (see 2 Peter 1:4). This is the meaning of the three feasts that cap the Easter season— Pentecost, Trinity Sunday, and Corpus Christi.

These feasts should be intimate reminders of how deeply God loves us, how He chose us, from before the foundation of the world, to be His children (see Ephesians 1:4–5).

Today's readings illuminate how all God's words and works were meant to prepare for the revelation of the Trinity and God's blessing in Jesus Christ—the blessing we inherited in Baptism, and renew in each Eucharist.

By God's word the heavens and earth were filled with His kindness, we sing in today's Psalm. Out of love, God called Abraham and chose his descendants to be His own people, Moses says in today's First Reading (see Deuteronomy 4:20,37). Through the Israelites, He revealed to the nations that He alone is Lord and there is no other.

In Jesus, God's word took flesh as a son of Abraham (see Matthew 1:1). And Jesus reveals in the Gospel today that the one God is Father, Son, and Spirit, and that He desires to make all people His own.

As He led Israel out of Egypt, God freed us from slavery, Paul says in today's Epistle. As He adopted Israel (see Romans 9:4), He gives us the Spirit by which we can know Him as "Our Father."

As God's heirs, we receive the commissions of Moses and Jesus today. We are to fix our hearts on Him, and to observe all that He has commanded. The Eucharist is His pledge—that He will be with us until the end, that He will deliver us from death to live forever in the promised land of His kingdom.

Vivimos en la familia de Dios, revelada como una Trinidad del amor

Escrito por Dr. Scott Hahn

Lecturas:
Deuteronomio 4:32–34, 39–40
Salmo 33:4–6, 9, 18–20, 22
Romanos 8:14–17
Mateo 28:16–20

El domingo pasado celebramos el envío del Espíritu, que selló el nuevo convenio de Dios e hizo una nueva creación.

En esta nueva creación, vivimos en la familia de Dios, que se ha revelado a sí mismo como una Trinidad del amor. Compartimos Su naturaleza divina por medio de Su Cuerpo y Sangre (véase 2 Pedro 1:4). Este es el significado de las tres fiestas que culminan la temporada de Pascua: Pentecostés, Domingo de Trinidad y Corpus Christi.

Estas fiestas deben ser recordatorios íntimos de cuán profundamente Dios nos ama, cómo él nos eligió, desde antes del fundamento del mundo, para ser Sus hijos (véase Efesios 1:4–5).

Las lecturas de hoy iluminan cómo todas las palabras y obras de Dios estaban destinadas a prepararse para la revelación de la Trinidad y la bendición de Dios en Jesucristo, la bendición que heredamos en el bautismo y renovar en cada Eucaristía.

Por la palabra de Dios, los cielos y la tierra estaban llenos de Su bondad, cantamos en el Salmo de hoy. Por amor, Dios llamó a Abraham y eligió a sus descendientes como Su propio pueblo, dice Moisés en la Primera Lectura de hoy (véase Deuteronomio 4:20,37). Por medio de los israelitas, reveló a las naciones que Él es El Único Señor y que no hay otro.

En Jesús, la palabra de Dios tomó carne como hijo de Abraham (véase Mateo 1:1). Y Jesús revela hoy en el Evangelio que el único Dios es Padre, Hijo y Espíritu, y que Desea hacer de todas las personas las suyas.

Al sacar a Israel de Egipto, Dios nos liberó de la esclavitud, dice Pablo en la Epístola de hoy. Al adoptar a Israel (véase Romanos 9:4), Él nos da el Espíritu por el cual podemos conocerlo como "Nuestro Padre".

Como herederos de Dios, hoy recibimos las comisiones de Moisés y Jesús. Debemos fijar nuestro corazón en Él y observar todo lo que Él ha mandado. La Eucaristía es Su promesa: que Él estará con nosotros hasta el final, para que Él nos entregue de la muerte para vivir para siempre en la tierra prometida de Su reino.
